

Power of the Circle

The circle represents the unbroken wholeness from which we draw our power and strength. It is our Source of Being. Everything is in the circle. Within the circle the traditional people follow their ancient ways of connection to each other and to Mother Earth. At the center of All That Is, the Creator weaves the Web of Life. We must treat each other with respect and leave no one out. People must be able to trust in each other and be responsible for their own behaviour. All beings are woven together in the circle.
